To the healthcare workers delivering care and saving lives,

We're glad to have an opportunity to support you. Occasionally, when collaborating with NHS trusts, we produce technology we couldn't have even imagined possible. When this happens, we want to share it with you.

This time, when working with a children's hospital, we produced a DICOM anonymization and optimization tool that works "offline" in real-time and supports bulk operations.

We're excited to share this technology with you for free and happily guarantee that the tool is designed and implemented so that medical files never leave your device and are processed solely in your browser's window.

If there's anything you require, such as assistance in producing a business case or a formal DPIA, get in touch. We'll provide you with everything you need to have this rolled out at your trust.

Yours faithfully,
